

Dr. John S. Dunsmoor

After practicing law for more than 20 years Dr. Dunsmoor embarked on a teaching career at three different four-year institutions before coming to Red Rocks Community College in 2012. Having taught on the academic side he began writing and instructing with Rocky Mountain Education Center in 2013. John has written and delivered instruction in business development and aspects of leadership in as varied places as the Colorado Department of Transportation and Saudi Arabia. He helped develop and instructed HSE curriculum at Al-Baqua University Amman, Jordan on assignment from RMEC in November 2014.

He was Grant Coordinator and Lead Instructor for OSHA Department of Labor Susan Harwood Grant 2015-2016 Field Leadership Course for Oil and Gas Industry.

Dr. Dunsmoor facilitated the Red Rocks Community College Leadership Academy 2016. Currently he is Coordinator of Business Innovation at RMEC responsible for creating curriculum, marketing and presenting leadership training for entrepreneurs as well as various national and international industries. He develops course content, writes syllabi and has taught courses in Contracts, Copyright and Negotiation for the Arts, Business Communication, Career Development, Fundamentals of Business and International Business Structures. John developed a course in Forensic Photography for medical and law enforcement personnel. Prior to coming to RRCC he designed and delivered courses on Conceptual Storytelling for filmmaking, writing and animation.

John is an active member of American Educational Research Association (AERA). And a presenter at the 2013 National Conference National Association of Community College Entrepreneurship (NACCE), in Charlotte, North Carolina,